GLENDALE WINS, 4 TO 3

DEFEATS EL CAJON, NEXT PLAYS FINAL GAME FOR CHAMPIONSHIP

One of the hardest fought games Glendale has played in a long time was that with El Cajon Saturday afternoon. This was an elimination game in the Interscholastic Association of Southern California's championship series and El Cajon's chances are now ended, while Glendale will play the last and final game.

The two teams were very evenly matched, with our boys the steadier at critical times and their opponents faster on bases. The latter stole second three times and third once. They excelled in double plays, also, making three to Glendale's one. Their pitcher and second basemen easily carried off the honors on their side, the former making a home run with a long hit a little to the right of second base and over the fence, the latter fielding his position perfectly and running the bases almost at will. Fred Jenkins pitched championship ball, fanning 13 of his opponents and twice saving the game at critical times by steady work and masterly twirling. With two men on bases and none out, and in spite of a wild throw that advanced both runners a base, he never lost his head but held all safe, finally striking out the third man. In the 1st and 5th innings he struck out all three men. Lefty Herman's home run in the 3d inning, sending 3 men in ahead of him, went high over second base and landed in the Colorado Street school grounds. Kruger umpired an absolutely fair game and there was not a semblance of a kick against his decisions.

The Score

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Glendale	0	0	4	0	0	0	0	0	4
El Cajon	1	2	0	0	0	0	0	0	3

Base Hits—Glendale 6, El Cajon 6; 2-base hits, Bancroft 1; home runs, Herman, Jensen. Struck Out—Jenkins 13, Jensen 8. Stolen bases—El Cajon 4.

S. P. NOT THE GOAT

It seems to be popular just now to blame the shortage or the high cost of any commodity on the railroads. "Transportation is tied up," comes very glibly from the tongues of manufacturers who are behind with orders or who wish to boost their prices. The Southern Pacific Company is determined not to be the goat in the case of the present shortage of gasoline and is making known its willingness to aid in remedying the situation by moving promptly any gasoline, distillate, kerosene or fuel oil offered for shipment. They are publishing an advertisement to this effect in this issue.

FROM L. A. TO GLENDALE

THOMAS HULL AND WIFE DE-
SERI BIG CITY FOR ITS SMALLER RIVAL

Thomas Hull and wife, who recently sold two residence properties in Los Angeles, decided that they wanted to live in Glendale so came out here one day last week and to their great delight came across J. E. Jeter, an old-time friend and schoolmate of Mrs. Hull away back in Bement, Illinois. By great good fortune Mr. Jeter's rental property at 217 East Chestnut was vacant so the Hulls occupied it at once and will stay there till they find something that suits them to buy. Both couples went to church yesterday morning and when they got home they found awaiting them Mrs. Hull's sister, Mrs. Walter Cummins, and her husband, of Whittier, and Mr. Hull's brother, Theo., and wife, of Long Beach, who spent the afternoon with them. Mr. Hull is delighted with Glendale and has already identified himself with the G. A. R. Post here, having been appointed by Rev. Norton as one of the speakers on patriotic topics to address the school children just before Decoration Day.

Mr. Hull went to Monticello, Platt county, just after the close of the war, to visit an uncle and some old friends who lived near there. He was offered rich black prairie land between Monticello and Champaign for $5 an acre. When he was back there last fall to visit the same uncle, that land was held at $500 an acre.

WEATHER FORECAST: Fair to night and Tuesday.

LIGHT ON SIBERIA

DR. BUCHER RELATES MANY OF
HIS EXPERIENCES IN THAT LAND OF MYSTERY

The speaker at the service held Sunday evening at the Glendale Congregational Church was Dr. William Henry Bucher, of this city, who returned not long ago from Siberia where he had been engaged in Red Cross work for more than a year. The things he told were of great interest and a revelation to many in the audience because Americans know so little about that far away land. He was introduced by the pastor, Dr. Willisford, who spoke of the close spirit of comradeship which the war developed among Red Cross workers and of his pleasure in welcoming Dr. Bucher on his return from Siberia. The fact that the doctor was one of the directors of the Red Cross work in Siberia meant a great deal more when he explained that he had to organize two hospitals, one in Irkutsk, another two thousand miles away at Krasnoyarsk on the Udin River, both on the trans-Siberian Railway which allied troops were sent to Siberia to guard because it was the only means of getting relief supplies to the interior of Russia or of furthering the work of the Red Cross in that country. He described the railroad as a most wonderful piece of engineering—splendidly built and built to last, better work than can be found in any American railroad today. In spite of the fact that the road for six years had received no repair and the rolling stock very little repair, it was going on and is going on today. Said he: "If you could see the way everything is made, you would understand why it lasts so well."

The doctor also spoke with enthusiasm of the buildings in the larger Siberian cities, beautiful in their architecture and splendidly constructed. He declared it opened the eyes of an American who had supposed his country the last word in progress to see the beauty and up-to-date character of those Siberian towns.

As a sample of the luxuries with which they surround themselves he mentioned the dining cars decorated with palm trees and a grand piano at one end.

His experience was not luxurious, however. Vladivostok, their port of entry, he described as a beautiful city of massive buildings on the twenty or thirty hills surrounding its wonderful harbor in which the water is so deep that the largest ves-

MR. BANNOCK'S GOOD FORTUNE

Mrs. J. T. Crampton of this city is in receipt of a letter from Mrs. George Bannock, now in Berkeley, California, telling of Mr. Bannock's recent appointment as instructor in the mechanical department in the Technical High School at Oakland. Mr. and Mrs. Bannock have many friends here who will be pleased to learn of his success. They formerly resided at 275 West Broadway, Glendale, but moved to Berkeley where their daughter Iris is attending the University and who will commence her junior year in the fall.

WALTER STAMPS BUYS ACRE- AGE FOR WALNUT RANCH

Walter Stamps of 204 West Lomita avenue has bought 19 acres of the old Encino Ranch, out along the Ventura highway, 20 miles from 6th and Main streets, but yet a part of Los Angeles. He will have it set to walnut trees and cultivate it until the trees are old enough to bear freely. The family will not move to the ranch until next year, as a house must be built first. Mr. Stamps will retain his business in Los Angeles until the ranch is in shape to make him a good living when he will devote all his attention to it.

MOUNTAINEERING

W. N. Bott and his son, Walter, of 667 Patterson avenue, left Wednesday for the San Bernardino mountains. Mrs. Bott has had a letter reporting their safe arrival at Forest Home and a hike they had made in which they encountered a good deal of snow. Mr. Bott writes that any one who saw them sliding together would think they were two boys. Walter has not been very strong since he had influenza and they are making the trip for his benefit. They are going to fish and tramp and relax and have a good time in a variety of ways and do not know just how long they will be away.

PRESIDENT OF FRANCE INJURED

FALLS FROM MOVING TRAIN WHILE TRYING TO RAISE
WINDOW; BRUISED BUT NOT SERIOUSLY HURT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PARIS, May 24.—Paul Deschanel, president of France, was badly bruised but otherwise uninjured early today when he fell from a moving train. The president was en route to Mont Maison. According to his explanation he was taken with a severe attack of grippe during the trip and when he retired closed all doors and windows to prevent catching additional cold. Shortly after midnight he found the air too close in the compartment and endeavored to open a window in the car. The window stuck but he managed to open it just as the train lurched. He lost his balance and was hurled out. The train was moving slowly. He was able to get up and make his way to the nearest railway station where his facial wounds were dressed.

RAILROAD FREIGHT RATES

AT HEARING BEFORE INTERSTATE COMMERCE COM-MISSION INCREASES OF 27.85 PER CENT ASKED

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, May 24.—The nation's railroads earned only one per cent on their property investment last year the Interstate Commerce Commission was told today at the opening of the hearing to fix new freight rates. This statement was made by Howard Elliott, chairman of the rate commission of the Association of Railway Executives who began the argument on behalf of the roads for a general freight increase totalling $1,017,000,000 annually.

Under the Transportation Act the Interstate Commerce Commission must fix rates which will enable the roads to earn 6 per cent on their valuations. The railroads now are confining their requests to rate increases for freight traffic. The new rates must be 27.85 per cent higher for the roads to pay 6 per cent, Elliott said.

CAMPAIGN EXPENDITURES

FRANK HITCHCOCK, CAMPAIGN MANAGER FOR GENERAL
WOOD TESTIFIED BEFORE SENATE COMMITTEE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, May 24.—Frank L. Hitchcock, campaign manager for General Leonard Wood, was the first witness called today by the Senate sub-committee investigating campaign expenditures. Hitchcock said he knew nothing about contributions to Wood's campaign fund and could only testify as to expenditures in a general way. He said $15,000 went into New Jersey from the national headquarters and this was the largest amount spent for a campaign fund in any state. In Maryland, he said, $12,000 was spent but in most states the allotment was less than $10,000. Some states got nothing, he said, citing New York, where local contributions financed the campaign. The Michigan campaign was financed by local people and no money was spent from national funds, he declared.

CARRANZA'S BODY REACHES CAPITAL

MET BY 150 MEMBERS OF FORMER DIPLOMATIC CORPS, FAITHFUL ADHERENTS AND RELATIVES

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

MEXICO CITY, May 24.—A dingy little train of three wooden coaches today brought the remains of Venustiano Carranza, murdered president of Mexico, back to his former capital. Drawn by a rusty, crippled engine the train made its way into the city at 5:50 a. m. over the narrow gauge railroad. Not more than 150 persons witnessed the arrival of the body. The watchers included most of the former diplomatic corps. George Summerlin, American charge d'affairs, was conspicuous. Other watchers were chiefly newspaper men, photographers and the mourning-clad members of the dead president's family. A few members of the Carranza regime who had not fled the capital, were waiting. As the train came to a halt a band of faithful Carranza soldiers who had acted as guards, clambered stiffly to the ground. They were ragged, dirty and unshaven from days of the hardest kind of campaigning in the mountains. Reverently, sombreros in hand, the soldiers lifted a rough wooden box from one of the coaches. It was the casket containing the body of Carranza, draped in the national colors. Then the remnant of the once proud Carranza army, a tattered group of weary, hungry men, lifted the casket to their shoulders and started a march. It was an impressive testimony of loyalty. Followed by the small group of mourners the little band moved on toward the Carranza residence. There the procession broke up and the body was placed in the possession of the dead president's daughters, Julia and Virginia, who were to arrange for the funeral. They planned to hold it either this afternoon or tomorrow. Burial will be in the Dolores Cemetery—the Cemetery of Sorrows.

CIVIS SERVICE RETIREMENT BILL SIGNED

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, May 24.—President Wilson today signed the civil service retirement bill providing for the retirement and pensioning of government employees.

STUDENT VOLUNTEERS

PUPILS FROM BIBLE INSTITUTE
PREPARING FOR MISSION WORK CONDUCT SERVICE

The Endeavorers of the Glendale Presbyterian Church enjoyed a real treat last evening when four Student Volunteers and the Male Quartette from the Bible Institute of Los Angeles visited the Intermediate and Young People's Societies. They met with the Intermediates first and spoke and sang there, then came into the Young People's meeting, which is held a half hour later, and delivered splendid messages in word and song, each one taking ten minutes for his topic. These young people are Student Volunteers for the foreign field and were enthusiastically received by the Endeavorers and urged to "come again." Those who were fortunate enough to be present at last evening's services and hear these consecrated young people speak and sing the Gospel were, indeed, fortunate, and on the other hand any who missed these meetings failed to hear something well worth while. The Quartette also sang at the evening church service.

DETECTIVE MCLAREN IN NEW YORK

Detective Malcolm McLaren of this city, who was sent east by District Attorney Woolwine to locate a notorious bunco operator known as "Big Hutch," who is wanted here as well as in many other parts of the country, has located his man in New York and made the arrest. He telegraphed Mrs. McLaren today that he did not know when he would be able to start home as Hutchinson is fighting extradition to California. He is said to be at the head of a gang concerned in many large swindles, one of which involved a loss to a single firm of $50,000.

GOOD BOOSTERS

Mr. and Mrs. McGowan, brother and sister-in-law of Mrs. Malcolm McLaren, who came out here from Texas, are now located in La Crescenta and find the climate there very favorable for Mr. McGowan who is trying to recuperate from a run down condition. The McLarens are anticipating the arrival of Mr. McLaren's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Schuch, and three children, from Chugwater, Wyoming. Mr. Schuch is a carpenter but the long, cold winters in Wyoming interfere seriously with his steady employment there and Mr. McLaren has persuaded him to try Southern California believing it will be to his advantage. They are expected to reach here in the course of the next month. The McLarens are trying to get all their relatives colonized in Southern California as they think it is the only place to live.

PRETTY SHOWER

MISS DOROTHY HOBBS HONOR-
ED BY MESDAMES JOSEPH
WEBSTER AND J. H. SMITH

Mrs. J. Herbert Smith, Mrs. Jos. H. Webster and her daughters, Lila and Leola Webster, entertained for Miss Dorothy Hobbs with a miscellaneous shower and social afternoon last Saturday. The party took place at the Webster residence which was beautifully decorated with roses. The gifts which were numerous and beautiful were placed beneath a large Maypole which centered the dining table, its parti-colored streamers terminating in bright paper butterflies fastened to the cloth forming a canopy of color. Delicious refreshments were served and a delightful afternoon was enjoyed by all present, the ladies present being: Mesdames E. L. Eames, Abbie Barker, Hal Davenport, William Wattles, William Mabry, H. P. Goodwin, C. R. Carmack, Noble Ripley, Essie Ripley, John Hobbs, E. J. Morgan, Andrew Stephenson, D. W. Stephenson, John A. Logan, Clare Van Ethen, Charles Turck, W. H. Bullis, D. H. Smith, A. W. Beach, Sidney Simon, J. R. Maxwell, J. G. Huntley, Seymour Smith, Donald Bennett, Fred Brown, J. T. Beach, H. B. Gardner, E. E. Keller, Daniel Webster, the hostesses, Mrs. J. Herbert Smith and Mrs. Joseph Webster, Misses Dorothy Hobbs, Blanche Davenport, Mary Logan, Hattie Myers, Esther Schremp, Ernestine and Cecilia Lyons, Alberta Heisler, Irene Mauk, Susie Smith, Lila and Leola Webster.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH

PASTORS MARTINDALE AND
STEVENS FILL REV. COLE'S
PULPIT IN HIS ABSENCE

In the absence of Rev. C. A. Cole at Paso Robles yesterday his pulpit at Central Christian Church was filled in the morning by Rev. Martindale of the Western Avenue Christian Church and in the evening by Rev. L. F. Stevens, formerly of San Dimas. The former spoke from the text: "Thy kingdom come." He contrasted the spirit with which the Vienna peace commission of 100 years ago approached their task, which was to parcel out the territories of all nations too small or too weak to defend themselves among the stronger ones, with that of the 1318 Peace Commission, which held up before it at all times the principle of self-determination for all nations except those directly responsible for the awful conflict. He drew from this and other cases mentioned of a similar tenor, the optimistic conclusion that the world has advanced greatly in morality and right feeling in the past centuries and is constantly growing better. Rev. Stevens spoke of the projected new School of Christianity, showing how much it was needed by his people and how it meant a large increase in growth, progress and influence for the Christian communion. There was a fine attendance at both services. The special musical numbers were greatly enjoyed.

DISTINGUISHED GUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Hayward of 407 North Kenwood street are entertaining some distinguished visitors in Mr. and Mrs. Robert Volentine of New York City. Mr. Volentine is secretary of the American Manufacturers' Export Association and has been attending the convention in San Francisco in which delegates from all parts of the country representing big and important business were present. He and Mrs. Volentine are spending a couple of weeks here and today they in company with other delegates are the guests of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce which is giving them an auto trip and visit to Universal City followed by a luncheon. Miss Gertrude Lane of New York City is also the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Hayward. She is on her way to Honolulu to visit a brother.

INTERESTING OSTEOPATHIC MEETING

Members of the local osteopathic club met Friday evening at the office of Dr. Payne-Jackman and were addressed by Dr. George Burton whose office is in Los Angeles but whose home is in Glendale. One who was present reports that the speaker gave a talk which kept his hearers spellbound until eleven o'clock. He has been practicing for twenty-one years and it was described as most interesting to hear him tell of the success he has had in osteopathic manipulation. Members said they came away from the meeting realizing that they had not trusted their therapy as far as they should have done. Dr. Burton made use of one of his fellow members in demonstrating his technique. All the osteopaths in this district were present.

WOMEN'S NIGHT

WOMEN OF GLENDALE BAPTIST CHURCH CONDUCT EVENING SERVICE

The service at the Baptist Church which was conducted by the women of the church Sunday evening proved most interesting and successful. There was an excellent attendance and the program as arranged was carried out as follows, Mrs. J. L. Gray presiding:

Bible reading and prayer, Mrs. W. F. Wood.

Violin duet, Misses Faith Tarling and Evangeline Quackenbush: "The Sweet Will of God."

Vocal duet, Mrs. Vera Neighbors and Mrs. Ray Bentley: "Beyond the Shining Gates of Gold."

Women's Chorus: "Somebody Cares."

Solo, Mrs. Neighbors: "The Touch of His Hand."

The address of the evening was made by Miss Beulah Bassett, who is home on a furlough from her mission work in the interior of West China. Her text was: "Lift Up Your Eyes," and her talk concerned mission work as she had known it in that part of the world.

NO WOODEN SHOES

Dutch manufacturers of wooden shoes, it is announced, have a hope of introducing their product into this country. They recall that New York was founded by their countrymen and they affect to believe that the Dutch strain may still persist to a point to make easier the task of convincing Americans of the desirability of such footwear. That cheaper shoes would be welcomed is beyond dispute, but whether what the Dutch have to offer as a substitute would meet the specifications is a matter of grave doubt. The wooden shoe as worn abroad proclaims the wearer as not able to afford a leather shoe, or, at most, as not able to join the caste accustomed to such a luxury. A badge of class has never been popular in this country, where it is the constitutionally guaranteed privilege of anyone to think himself as good as the next fellow, if not a little better.

Personals

F. P. Wilkin is having the house at 115 South Central avenue repaired and remodeled at an expense of $1500.

Mrs. Eugene Smith of 457 Pioneer Drive went to San Diego last Thursday to visit her brother. She is expected home today.

Miss Dorothy Wilde of this city who got her first training in banking in Eagle Rock, is now a permanent employee of the Eagle Rock Bank.

City trustees of Eagle Rock have adopted an ordinance "prohibiting the erection, establishment, conduct or maintenance of motion picture plants within the City of Eagle Rock."

J. J. Burke, contractor, took out a permit this morning for the erection of a $700 garage, for temporary residence purposes, at 831 S. Maryland avenue, for A. C. McElhinney.

Mrs. P. E. Omans of Lansing, Mich., who, with her little daughter has been spending several months in Glendale with a sister, Mrs. Walter Haines, of 212 West Lomita avenue, started for home yesterday.

Mrs. W. W. Hall of 331 Patterson has been seriously crippled by rheumatism for some time. She is considering a trip to the beach to see what a change of altitude and other conditions will do.

After the sale of her home at 526 Fairmont street, Mrs. G. G. Blue went to Ireland to visit relatives. She expects to be gone until September. Mr. Blue is in Los Angeles. Their friends here expect they will return to Glendale.

Members of the Ladies' Aid of the Casa Verdugo Methodist Church with their husbands were entertained last week with a picnic outing at the home of their pastor and his wife, Dr. and Mrs. E. O. Thayer, of Eagle Rock.

Mrs. Boyden of 925 North Louise expected to welcome last Saturday a grand-son from New York, a young man of twenty. His mother and sister arrived three or four weeks ago and he is now joining them. They expect to make their permanent home here.

Recent sales reported by the Berkeley agency include the residence of Mrs. H. W. Groutage at 312 N. Belmont street to A. F. Anderson of Los Angeles; the residence of Geo. R. Rogers of 618 East Colorado to Frank Kellogg of Nebraska; the home of Albert Wilson, 409 West Elk Ave. to Mrs. Mary Jenkins, of Denver, Col.

Three poems, "Sweet Daffodil," "The Heart of Midsummer," and "Make My Heart Like Thine, O Christ," by Prof. F. Lee Chauvan of 505 West Colorado street have been given a musical setting by Arthur Bergh of New York City. "Sweet Daffodil" was published by the well-known music firm of Oliver Ditson & Co., of Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Barton entertained at dinner Saturday night, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Miller and Mrs. Van Vorst of Los Angeles. Mr. Miller is president of the Luitwieler Pumping Engine Company of Rochester, New York, but has been visiting Los Angeles friends for a few weeks. He goes back to Rochester on Tuesday. Mr. Barton is manager of the Company's western branch.

Albert J. Maxwell, who formerly lived at 715 North Maryland avenue and about two years ago sold the property to Rev. Arthur W. Higby, pastor of Broadway Christian Church, Los Angeles, moving then to the big city, has decided that Glendale is the best place to live, after all, so recently bought the lot at 129 Burchett and has employed Contractor W. G. Boyd to build for him a commodious garage to occupy as a temporary residence until he can build a home.

Mrs. John H. Jackson of 332 N. Orange arrived at home Friday from a visit of a few months with her son, Morris, in Chicago, and her daughter, Elizabeth, Mrs. A. M. Feland, Jr., of Danville, Ky. Morris and his new wife accompanied her home and will live in Glendale, greatly to the delight of the Jackson family. Morris had made good in Chicago after his discharge from the army, securing a fine position immediately and making himself necessary to his employers. He came to the coast for climatic reasons, feeling sure he will have no trouble in making a business connection very soon.

The Southwest Paving Company, which submitted the lowest bid, $200,000, on the Sycamore Canyon boulevard paving job is an entirely new concern in which H. S. Graul, for 20 years superintendent with the Fairchild-Gilmore Wilton Company and Wm. E. Burke, secretary of the same concern for a like period of time, are the main stockholders. The company is now in process of incorporation, it is stated, and this is the first big job it has competed for. Commencement of the work on this new boulevard has been postponed for a few weeks at the request of some of the property holders in the assessment district.

EVENING SESSION

ANNUAL EVENT AT INTERMEDIATE A GREAT SUCCESS

As usual the annual evening session at the Intermediate School Friday was a great success, about two hundred visitors being present. So well did the children respond in the various classes some of the visitors were heard to declare they had been specially coached for the evening, but that, Superintendent White and the teachers declare, was entirely untrue. There was no session Friday afternoon, that of the evening taking its place.

First on the program came the physical training on the grounds for twenty minutes. Then came two periods of recitations. The first one corresponded with the third period on Monday and the second one corresponded with the fifth period on Wednesday. These two were chosen because they would display the greatest variety of work. Practically every branch was covered except music and for that the music at the assembly with which the program closed had to suffice. This assembly like the class periods was conducted just as usual and was not rehearsed. As usually happens letters and certificates were presented to many boys and girls who had earned them in athletic activities.

The girls and boys who received these credits were: Dorothy Van Osdoll, Ruth Morton, Vesta Morrow, Frances Drake, Martha Schierholtz, Helen Anderson, Ruth Duryea, Esther Klein, Winifred Spindler, Marvella McClain, Frances Duryea, Charlotte Blakney, John Lovell, Robt. Frazee, Theo. Haig (2), Walter Hertzog, Leslie Hatch, Thomas Wood, Fred Conner, Paul Bettis, Richardson Jones, Harold Thompson, Pearce McMillan, Gordon Kingsley.

NEW SERVICE AT WHITE INN

The White Inn is making a new departure that will undoubtedly meet with favor by the public and by hurried business men in particular by inaugurating a short order service which will continue for almost the entire day. Other changes in the service are being made which are announced in the classified advertisement. Mrs. Jack Thomas has made a success of her venture from the start and has made the White Inn a favorite eating place for large gatherings of business men, for social affairs and wedding parties.

HOLLYWOOD FESTIVAL

Managers of the Hollywood Festival state that tonight, which will be Glendale Night, special arrangements have been made for parking automobiles bearing the Glendale banner inside the festival enclosure so the occupants of the cars can remain in them during the concert if they desire. Mr. Coker, chairman of the transportation committee, is making arrangements for cars to take those who do not own automobiles and who wish to attend. He can be reached to secure reservations by telephoning Glendale 147. The automobiles will leave the High School grounds promptly at 7 o'clock for the festival. The program will open with a greeting to Glendale delegates, response by Hartley Shaw, followed by Oratorio and Italian band numbers, then numbers by Francis Henry of this city and dances by Viola Yorba and Ernest Martinez.

SEVENTH-DAY ADVENTIST NOTES

Elder J. W. Christian and Prof. W. W. Ruble left last Wednesday for the camp meeting and annual conference of Seventh-Day Adventists at Phoenix, Arizona. They will be back Tuesday.

Elder W. F. Martin leaves via the Salt Lake Railroad for a series of camp meetings and conferences which will take him to North and South Dakota, and as far east as New Jersey and Ohio. He will then spend a little time in the south and return to Glendale about the first of September. Mrs. Martin will remain here.

Elder J. Adam Stevens, Home Missionary Secretary of the Pacific Union Conference, left Sunday for Phoenix to remain there until the close of the meeting. On his return he will leave immediately to attend a camp meeting at Visalia.

Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Oehrli of 915 East Lomita entertained a number of out-of-town guests at a picnic at their lovely home on Saturday. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. F. S. King of San Francisco, Mr. and Mrs. A. Hawthorn of Pasadena, Mrs. E. F. Joy of San Francisco, Mrs. Elfrida Gangser of Portland, Oregon.

W. K. Parkinson of 915 Mountain street was driving south on Brand yesterday behind a car belonging to A. W. Canfield of Verdugo Canyon Road and driven by Miss Burnes when the latter turned to enter the Nash garage and Mr. Parkinson ran into her car, jamming one front fender of his car and bending the left rear fender and splintering some of the spokes in the left rear wheel of the other machine. Mr. Parkinson claims he saw no turning signal from Miss Burnes.

THE CASTLE OF DOOM?

The former All Highest and supreme "war lord" who aspired to dominate the earth outwitted the motion picture camera men and sneaked into his new home at Doorn, Holland, through a back entrance. The change from the apparently unwilling hospitality of Count Bentinck to a home more his own, may be restful in some measure to the perturbed spirit of even a dethroned emperor.

No longer does William appear to be threatened with trial for the high crime of chief war culprit. Holland is not being pressed for his extradition. Even Lloyd George may be satisfied with the Castle of Doorn as a finality of fate for the forlorn exile, whose life there must make of it a veritable castle of doom, void of all possibility of pleasing intellectual contemplation, distressed more by the friends he must accept than by any fear of enemies, isolate, morbid, escaping alien menace only to know that he can't escape from himself.

Russian Bolshevik officials have agreed to spare the lives of war prisoners. They are growing quite generous.

These are the days when the candidates seek to stuff a comfy pillow with the straw votes.

Is the overalls fad all over?

sels can steam right up to the dock. It was a very cosmopolitan population which met their gaze,—Cosacks in yellow turbans and red striped trousers, Italians, French, English, Americans and Czechoslavs, the latter in control. Omsk, 4000 miles away on the Siberian Railway, was the seat of government of Kolchak, head of the white army whom the Allies were endeavoring to support and the railway was the only avenue by which Red Cross supplies could be gotten through to him. American troops at that time numbered about 9000.

One of the first things the doctor and the members of the party discovered was the antipathy of the population to Americans. They could get little or no service as soon as the fact that they were Americans was known. Why that feeling existed the doctor was never able to learn, he said. The journey to Omsk by rail was interesting to him the first part of the way, but the latter portion was a haze because he developed cholera and was terribly sick most of the journey. About every four miles along the railway is a village in which the men who have developed the wonderful farms through which they passed live, going daily to their farms from the villages.

Harbin in Manchuria they found a wonderful city. Russia controls the land for twenty miles on either side of the railway right of way and this has been considerably developed. Harbin, the doctor says, has beautiful buildings, department stores as fine as any here, churches and opera houses far superior to any thing we can display.

From Harbin the party proceeded to the western border of Manchuria, and on that frontier the tides from China and Siberia meet and mingle. All the filth and degradation of both countries seems to come to the surface there. The Russian can always be picked out at the stations by the loaf of black bread under his arm and the teakettle in his hand. At the stations he rushes to get the hot water dispensed free with which he makes his tea and upon that and the black bread he exists, in many cases. The engineers on the railroads are slaves to their occupation, forbidden by law to leave their jobs or to strike. They are paid 300 rubles a month and at the time the doctor reached Omsk it took 150 rubles to equal in value our dollar. The engineers on that basis were receiving $2 a month and black bread and tea was about the only thing they could subsist upon.

The doctor modestly touched upon his labors in establishing the two large hospitals and the terrific demands upon himself and his associates, not to speak of the work of the Siberian physicians to whom he paid a high tribute for their skill and devotion to professional duty. One in particular he mentioned who worked night and day among the poor without any compensation depending upon a small, independent income he was fortunate enough to possess. He lightly but not frivolously dismissed the story of their struggle with the dread typhus which was epidemic in Russia, not a family but what numbered its victims. One can imagine faintly what the proposition was to the band of hospital workers struggling with cholera, typhus and the wounded coming to them from the fighting front at Omsk 2000 miles from the hospital on the Uda River. The vitality of the Russians can be sensed in some degree when one learns that the wounded were crowded into box cars which were nailed up and dispatched the 2000 miles in that condition, their wounds receiving but the crudest attention when they started. Yet, the doctor says, after cleansing of their wounds and after receiving food and care, their response was marvelous and in a few weeks they were able to be up and about. Of course there were deaths on the journey, and there were deaths from typhus cases distributed over the city and country which never received attention and which lay unburied for days.

All this time there were constant rumors that Omsk had fallen but it was months before the rumors became a verity and the Red Army defeated the White Army. Once it was victorious, however, its progress was rapid. At the hospital on the Uda River they had figured there would be plenty of warning of the approach of the Reds, but in the midst of their Christmas dinner came the news that the Bolsheviks were approaching. A steamer was chartered to take the Red Cross commission to the railway station; but the doctor and two associates were left to arrange for the distribution of the Red Cross supplies valued at $1,500,000 more or less. With the aid of the physician mentioned this was finally accomplished by the time the Reds came marching in their hands playing the "Marseillaise," which they have adopted as their national air and battle cry. Their triumphal entry into Irkutsk was effected January 5th and although the doctor had many friends among them, he confesses to a great misgiving when he saw the red flag of Bolshevism make its appearance. But after taking possession of the city the leaders came to him and urged that the Red Cross commission remain, declaring their friendly feeling for it and that Russia had greater need of it than ever; but they had no instructions to remain after Kolchak's defeat and their departure was somewhat accelerated by the rumors current among the French, English and Czechoslovaks that the Red leaders had been instructed to capture and hold as hostages all foreigners.

The Russian, the doctor says, is generous, hospitable and kindly, wonderfully polite to those with whom he sustains friendly relations, but his only desire towards an enemy is to kill him, and there is no atrocity of which he will not be guilty. The same outrages were committed by the White Army under Kolchak that were perpetrated by the Reds. There was little to choose between their methods of warfare.

The situation was complicated by the operations of a bandit who entirely distanced Villa in his atrocities and high-handed methods of impressing troops. He intimated that Japanese influence encouraged Seminoff. There were sinister rumors of support of this bandit who entirely distanced Villa in his atrocities and high-handed methods of impressing troops. He intimated that Japanese influence encouraged Seminoff, supposedly for the purpose of increasing the disorder of the country and furthering its own designs.

The doctor closed his talk with a gentle warning concerning the unrest in this country which he thinks is akin to that which has devastated Russia and against which we have need to take precautionary methods.

The German who originated the idea of having Mexico attack the United States now admits it openly. Evidently he does not yet realize what a fool he was.
